

Kick start lifesaving conversations about DRUG-FREE living

The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) has joined forces with Discovery Education to create a comprehensive, NO-COST, science-based program for young people, ages 8-18, to combat opioid misuse—available TODAY in every school, home, and state in the nation to kick-start life-saving actions.

Operation Prevention does not require corporate underwriting—your community can begin using the program immediately!

Digital Classroom Lessons

Elementary, middle, and high school classroom-ready lessons and companion guides provide educators with standards-aligned, science-based tools to integrate seamlessly into classroom instruction.

Video Challenge

High school students are empowered to create an original public service announcement to inform their peers about the dangers of prescription opioid misuse.

Parent Toolkit

Parents can join the conversation with a family discussion guide that provides information on the warning signs of opioid misuse and a guide to prevention and intervention to empower families to take action.

On Demand Virtual Field Trips

Dynamic virtual journeys take young people to the frontlines of the epidemic, providing them with the information, tools and experiences to be a part of the national dialogue to stop prescription drug addiction before it starts.

Spanish Resources

Operation Prevention offers an expanding array of Spanish-language resources to broaden engagement and ease-of-use of these lifesaving tools in homes, schools, and communities across the country.

Student Learning Module

In this self-paced, standards-aligned e-learning experience, young people explore the science of opioid misuse and build strategies they can employ when faced with a decision about the use of prescription medications.
